(54) METHOD FOR UTILIZING COMPUTER RESOURCE AND SYSTEM FOR THE SAME

(57)Abstract:

PROBLEM TO BE SOLVED: To open and resell surplus parts of the information processing capabilities of a computer connected to a network to a third person, and to allow a user to easily use computer resources, as necessary.

SOLUTION: A request from a user 3 for calculation processing is accepted (step 104), and the calculation processing is divided into plural calculation unit blocks which can be processed in parallel (step 105), and the assignment of the calculation unit blocks to each provider 4 is decided (step 106), and the calculation unit blocks respectively assigned to the plural providers 4 are distributed (step 107). Each provider 4 calculates the calculation unit blocks (step 108), and transmits the results to a center system 2 (step 109). The results are gathered (step 110), and transmitted to the user 3 (step 111), and charging processing is executed (steps 112-115).
